What did you like about this course and how it was taught?

(Text/Memo)

- I liked how the course was discussion based and it enabled students to actively engage with the material

Word Cloud Not Available

No text to process or the text does not contain words occurring at least 2 times.

(Text/Memo)

- Three things: for one, I wish the discussion was more student led. There were a lot of times when the instructor would talk, and that's important but it would leave students less time to participate and therefore leave them with a lower participation grade. Second it felt like some student's ideas were more accepted than others especially if the conversation became too "theologically dense." This is a philosophy of religion class and if students are to expand their knowledge of religion then they should be able to engage with high levels of content that both challenges their thinking and their current mode of understanding. Finally, I wish the material was not based on the textbook that was read but instead on historical figures in theology and their works. Individuals like Saint Augustine, Aquinas, Martin Luther, Rabbi Shimon Bar Yochai, and their associated works could given students a better understanding of the theologies that dominate each respective faith, an understanding of the history of each faith, as well as a challenge to think outside the box more.
